WELCOME TO MWF SCHOOLS

[MWF]

Join us in May for an action-packed day of learning at State Library Victoria!

Our 2026 program features a remarkable lineup of authors, graphic novelists and storytellers who will guide students through a day of informative sessions.

Over the course of one captivating day, students will explore the artist's journey, partake in insightful discussions on technology and climate change, hear deeply engaging stories from diverse voices, and much more.

MWF Schools promises to enhance students' comprehension of literature and provide them with a set of tools they can carry throughout their educational journey.

Students will also have the opportunity to meet the presenters for book signings. A selection of titles will be available for purchase at the Readings pop-up bookstore on the day (card payments only).

This year, we're excited to offer our new VOE program for English, English as an Additional Language, and English Literature students studying Units 1 to 4. This program is specifically crafted in line with the Victorian curriculum to support students' VOE studies.

We look forward to welcoming your students to another unmissable year of MWF Schools!

PRIMARY SCHOOLS PROGRAM

Remy Lai: Chickenpox

Join beloved storyteller Remy Lai for a fun session about itchy skin, annoying siblings and BIG feelings!

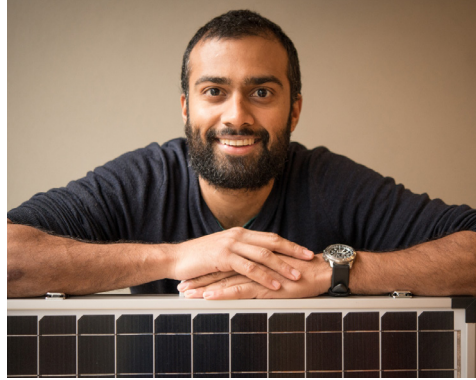

In this interactive presentation packed with heart, humour and relatable family antics, Lai will explore the power of graphic storytelling and guide students through the art of drawing emotions.

From sketch to story, Lai will offer a peek into the real-life experiences that inspired her latest book Chickenpox – celebrating the chaotic and downright silly family moments that can inspire great, big, hilarious stories!

KEY CURRICULUM AREAS

Learning areas: English, The Arts / Visual Arts, Health and Physical Education.

Capabilities: Critical and Creative Thinking, Personal and Social, Ethical.

Dr Niraj Lal: Behind the Screens

In this eye-opening session, scientist, podcaster and author of Behind the Screens Dr Niraj Lal lifts the lid on our favourite apps, games and videos – and how young people can stay smart in a digital world that influences what we click, think and believe.

Lal will unpack the big questions: Why is it so hard to stop scrolling? What happens to all the data we leave behind? How can we tell what's true?

From gaming to algorithms, online privacy, AI, misinformation and more, this session gives young people the tools to understand the digital world and make better online decisions.

KEY CURRICULUM AREAS

Learning areas: English, Technologies / Digital Technologies, Health and Physical Education, Humanities / Civics and Citizenship, The Arts / Media Arts.

Capabilities: Critical and Creative Thinking, Personal and Social, Ethical.

4 & 5 MAY

[MWF]

Olivia Muscat: Finding My Voice

During this special event, blind writer, performer and activist Olivia Muscat will take students through her creative journey and her new middle-grade novel, Annie and Maeve are Definitely Not Friends. Discover how Muscat found her artistic voice, how her disability shapes her writing process, and how she created the book she longed for as a child.

This lively session leads participants to explore disability, representation and difference with fresh eyes and open hearts. Bringing her signature love of colour, joy and music, Muscat will encourage students to celebrate their identities and use their own experiences to fuel their creativity.

KEY CURRICULUM AREAS

Learning areas: English, Health and Physical Education.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS PROGRAM

Karen Comer: Once Upon Tomorrow

Are our paths already forged for us? How can we make our own way in a world of impossible choices? Can fairytales help us understand ourselves and the choices we make?

In this thought-provoking presentation, award-winning author Karen Comer reveals the sparks behind her expansive new verse novel Once Upon Tomorrow, and considers the paradoxes shaping our modern lives – when we should choose ourselves or choose others; and how to lean into nature when artificial intelligence is determined to tempt us.

Weaving together identity, family and climate, Comer encourages readers to embrace creativity in the face of evolving technology.

KEY CURRICULUM AREAS

Learning areas: English, Humanities / Civics and Citizenship, Technology / Digital Technologies.
Capabilities: Critical and Creative Thinking, Ethical.

Tony Birch: The Ethical Imagination

With a particular focus on First Nations texts, this interactive presentation by beloved Australian author, poet and activist Tony Birch (The White Girl, Ghost River) will explore how lived experience and cultural background shape textual meaning. Fostering deeper engagement, this session will encourage students to develop a curious and critical approach to reading and interpreting texts by authors whose perspectives differ from their own.

Reading and Writing Poetry with Maxine Beneba Clarke

Acclaimed poet, fiction writer and memoirist Maxine Beneba Clarke (The Hate Race, Foreign Soil, How Decent Folk Behave, Carrying the World) shares her approach to crafting poems, and offers tips for how students can interpret, analyse and engage with poetry on the curriculum, and cultivate a strong poetic voice of their own.

Reading and Writing Fiction and Non-Fiction with Alice Pung

In this presentation, award-winning memoirist and novelist Alice Pung (Unpolished Gem, Laurinda, One Hundred Days) will discuss her creative career writing prose stories – both fictional and drawn from her own life. Pung will guide students on how to engage with fiction and non-fiction texts on the curriculum and share inspiration about how to generate ideas and get them onto the page.

Ask Me Anything with Maxine Beneba Clarke and Alice Pung

VCE Day concludes with a no-holds-barred Ask Me Anything session bringing together the afternoon's keynote speakers, Maxine Beneba Clarke and Alice Pung. Students will have the rare opportunity to speak directly with both writers and ask them any burning questions about their books, respective processes and extraordinary creative careers.

ARTISTS

Remy Lai

Remy Lai is the author and illustrator of the critically acclaimed Pie in the Sky, Pawosso, Ghost Book, Fly on the Wall, and Read at Your Own Risk, as well as her latest graphic novel Chickenpox. She lives in Brisbane, Australia, with her golden retriever. Sometimes, she eats ice cream for breakfast.

Dr Niraj Lal

Dr Niraj (Nij) Lal is an ANU Visiting Fellow and host of the ABC Kids podcast Imagine This. He has a PhD in physics from the University of Cambridge and has appeared on Play School, Catalyst, and heaps more. His awards include the Eureka Prize for Promoting Understanding of Science and the Royal Societies of Australia and NZ Piasecki Prize for Outstanding Writing on Social Change. His latest book is Behind the Screens.

Olivia Muscat

Olivia Muscat is a totally blind writer, actor, performer and disability activist. She lives in Naarm/Melbourne (Wurundjeri Country), Australia with her guide dog, Jemima. Muscat uses her love for colour, joy and music to tell stories that make people want to examine their attitudes towards disabled people and difference in general. When she's not writing, Muscat teaches children and occasionally performs on stage. Her latest book, Annie and Maeve are Definitely Not Friends, will be out in May 2026.

Penny Tangey

Penny Tangey writes humorous books for young people. Her middle-grade novel As Fast As I Can won the Readings Children's Book Prize and the Queensland Literary Awards Children's Book Award. Her most recent book, Music Camp, is about kids finding camaraderie through music in the climate crisis. Tangey has worked as a researcher for television quiz shows Hard Quiz and The Chase, but she's still terrible at trivia. She now works as a librarian.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS PROGRAM

Karen Comer

Karen Comer is a verse novelist and freelance editor. Grace Notes won the 2024 CBCA Book of the Year for Older Readers, and was shortlisted for the Prime Minister's Literary Awards and the NSW Premier's Literary Awards. Sunshine on Vinegar Street won the Queensland Literary Awards for the Children's Book Award and was a 2024 CBCA Notable for Younger Readers. Her third book, Once Upon Tomorrow, is out in May.

Amy Doak

Amy Doak writes thrilling mystery novels for teens that are filled with action, adventure, humour and heart. Her latest novel, What Have They Done To Liza McLean?, combines dark academia with speculative secrecy and, as with her best-selling, award-winning Eleanor Jones series, offers fast-paced and fun crime fiction that encourages readers to enjoy 'just one more chapter'. Doak lives in Central Victoria with her husband, two teens, and a very grumpy cat.

Tigest Girma

Tigest Girma is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of Immortal Dark and Eternal Ruin. After graduating with a Bachelor of Education, she splits her time between writing and teaching. Passionate about exploring East African characters and myths, her work weaves Black stories with the dark and fantastical. In her free time, she can be found rewatching her comfort shows where the villain gets the girl. Originally from Ethiopia, she is now based in Melbourne.

Andrew Marlton AKA First Dog on the Moon

Walkley award-winning editorial cartoonist for The Guardian, National Treasure and bestselling author First Dog on the Moon, has written and/or illustrated numerous books. First Dog's latest book is Revenge of the Toxic Space Potato – unless you count the one with Annabel Crabb about the democracy prawn. First Dog lives at the First Dog On The Moon Institute in Southern Tasmania among the pademelons and silver wattles.

Jasmin McGaughey

Jasmin McGaughey is a Torres Strait Islander and African American writer working at Books+Publishing. She is the author of Moonlight and Dust and Ash Barty's Little Ash series (illustrated by Jade Goodwin). In 2023, she won a Queensland Premier's Young Publishers and Writers Award. She is a blackxwrite! editor alum, and has written for Overland, Kill Your Darlings, SBS Voices and Griffith Review and recently co-edited Words to Sing the World Alive.

VCE PROGRAM

Tony Birch

Tony Birch is an activist, historian, essayist, and the award-winning author of novels, short story collections and books of poetry, including Women & Children, The White Girl, Blood, Common People, Shadowboxing, Ghost River, and Dark as Last Night. In 2017 he was awarded the Patrick White Literary Award. Pictures of You: Collected Stories is his latest book.

Maxine Beneba Clarke

Maxine Beneba Clarke is the author of Foreign Soil, The Hate Race, When We Say Black Lives Matter, and The Patchwork Bike. Her poetry collections include Beautiful Changelings, Carrying the World, How Decent Folk Behave, It's the Sound of the Thing, 100 new poems for young people, and Stuff I'm (NOT) Sorry For: 99 more poems for young people. Clarke was the inaugural Peter Steele Poet in Residence at the University of Melbourne (2023–2025).

Alice Pung

Alice Pung OAM is the award-winning author of the memoirs Unpolished Gem and Her Father's Daughter, the essay collection Close to Home, and the novel Laurinda, as well as the editor of the anthologies Growing Up Asian in Australia and My First Lesson. Her most recent novel, One Hundred Days, was shortlisted for the 2022 Miles Franklin Award. Pung was awarded an Order of Australia Medal for services to literature in 2022.

MWF SCHOOLS HOSTS

Karys McEwen

Karys McEwen is a school librarian, author, and education advisor for the Melbourne Writers Festival. She is passionate about the role libraries and books can play in the wellbeing of young people, and she writes the Substack newsletter 'I Read A Lot'. She is the author of two middle grade novels, All the Little Tricky Things and The Paperbark Tree Committee.

Bec Kavanagh

Bec Kavanagh is a writer, literary critic and academic living in Naarm whose work examines the representation of women's bodies in literature. Kavanagh's work can be found in The Guardian, Overland, The Big Issue and the anthology Resilience. Kavanagh has worked for the Stella Prize, The Wheeler Centre, Faber Academy and Australia Reads. She is currently Senior Tutor in Creative Writing and Publishing at the University of Melbourne.
